PREFACE

The Helps in this Bible have been prepared by notable Bible scholars for practical and simple aids to Bible study and research in the home, in Bible school work, and for Christians, ministers, and leaders whose opportunities and time for special preparation are limited.

These Helps are so simple in arrangement that a child, an ordinary layman, the father or the mother in the home, can easily and speedily make a complete and thorough research of the entire Bible on any subject; and, yet, they are so profound and comprehensive that the most learned Bible scholar will find them indispensable.

The Indexes are simple, systematic, analytical, thorough, and exhaustive, providing more than 35,000 Biblical references. Other special features contain thousands of Bible references. Combining these Indexes and other features with the use of the 60,000 marginal references, one can readily secure complete Biblical information on any subject.

In addition to these extensive and pertinent Bible References, all Old Testament statements that have a distinctive Messianic prophetic element are indicated by this marginal sign ►. In the center column reference the New Testament passages referring to the fulfillment of these prophecies will be found.

All these Helps are strictly nonsectarian; they simply make the Bible its own interpreter; they meet the time and labor-saving demands of today.
